

Coexisting with Canids

Basic Prevention and Safety Tips

Know your wild neighbours.

We share our urban and rural spaces with an array of fascinating species. Be wildlife-aware. Enjoy your surroundings and keep a safe and respectful distance from wild animals.

Don't invite unwanted houseguests.

Keep your home properly sealed to exclude and discourage wildlife. Remove food attractants: secure garbage/compost containers, pick up dog feces, and clean outdoor grills. Reconsider bird feeders: they attract small mammals which, in turn, encourage carnivores to visit your yard.

Practice responsible pet guardianship.

Free-roaming pets are vulnerable to a multitude of dangers. 92% of conflict between wildlife and domestic dogs occurs when dogs are running at large. For everyone's safety, obey leash laws and keep cats indoors or in a secured enrichment area.

Do not feed wildlife.

Feeding a wild animal will increase its proximity tolerance to people and pets. Direct feeding also attracts unintended/secondary wildlife and can ultimately put animals and people in harm's way.

What to Do if a Coyote or Fox Approaches You

STOP: Pick up children and small pets, if necessary.

STAND YOUR GROUND: Never run from a coyote, fox or dog.

MAKE YOURSELF BIG: Wave your hands above your head.

BE LOUD AND ASSERTIVE: Shout "Go Away!", stomp your feet or clap your hands.

SLOWLY BACK AWAY: Be assertive as you leave, so the animal knows it is not welcome.

Keeping Strong Boundaries

Setting Boundaries Using Humane Deterrents

Humane hazing (or aversion conditioning) is a method of negative association that safely compels wildlife such as coyotes, foxes or wolves to move away from humans, sometimes through the use of deterrents. Hazing has been used with great success around the world with many species, including bears and tigers.

Basic Hazing Techniques

- Stand your ground, make yourself big, shout (don't scream) "Get Back!" and wave your arms until the coyote retreats.
- Use a noisemaker, such as: your voice, an air horn or whistle, pots and pans banged together, a shake can (such as a pop can filled with coins or pebbles), a large plastic garbage bag being snapped, jingling keys, or an umbrella popping open and closed.
- Use a projectile (toward, not AT the coyote), such as: sticks, clumps of dirt, small rocks, or a tennis ball.
- During warm months, use water, such as: a garden hose, a spray bottle filled with water or a water balloon (*note - always pick up balloon pieces!)
